

I read about the Sinclair
Broadcasting
organization's decision to force
their stations to air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election.

"Force" is said. If
"a well regulated militia" is essential to the Republic, is an "independent media"
not just as important? This concerns not an editorial comment of the owner of a
station, this is the mandate of a huge corporation to influence voters.
And this is not legal, right? Not yet anyway?
